ABOUT

Passionate programmer dedicated to solving complex problems and driving innovation. Known for applying engineering principles, quickly adopting new technologies, and delivering high-quality solutions. Adept at providing technical guidance, incorporating industry best practices, and ensuring the design, development, and testing of next-generation software. Proven track record in time management, collaboration, and continuous improvement within a dynamic team environment. Committed to empowering individuals and organizations through cutting-edge technology.

PROJECTS

Personal Portfolio Website

Created a dynamic personal portfolio website with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Bootstrap. Utilized GitHub Pages for online deployment, showcasing skills and projects. Highlights commitment to professional presentation, serving as a hub for potential employers and collaborators to explore my capabilities.

Mobile Price Prediction

Designed a mobile price prediction project using XGBoost machine learning. Compiled a robust dataset from various e-commerce platforms like Flipkart and Amazon. Empowers consumers with accurate price estimates based on specific features, facilitating informed purchasing decisions. Showcases a solid understanding of machine learning principles and practical problem-solving through advanced algorithm implementation.
